Value-added Service

Giving customers the option to charge their electric vehicles at your location will lead to an increase in on-site sales.

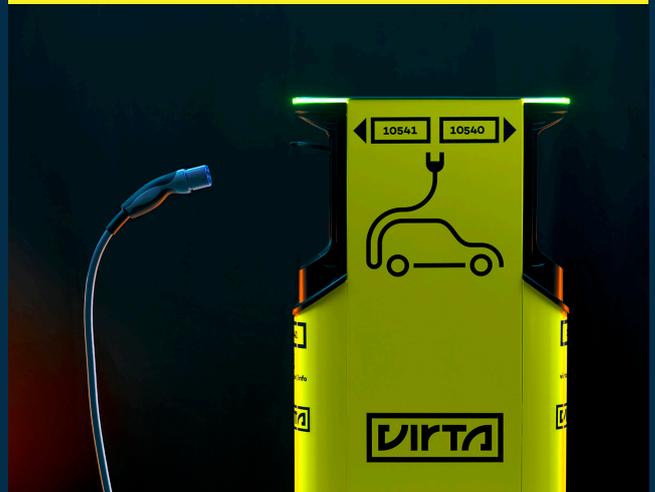

Typically, EV drivers don't just stop to charge their car, but are also likely to eat, shop, and take care of other everyday necessities.

Primary Business

Virta provides you with all the necessary tools and features for building a charging network, ready-made.

Becoming an EV market forerunner would mean you're participating in building a lucrative service for future EV drivers. With smart, cloud-based tools, you can manage hundreds or thousands of stations with ease.

Electric cars offer a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for companies seeking new business opportunities
